III. Employer Responsibilities, Termination of Agreement, and other Miscellaneous Items

16. Employer is willing to take all necessary steps to sponsor the Employee as a Registered Nurse in order to obtain an immigrant visa for the Employee to enter the United States to be employed as contemplated herein.
17. Employer shall furnish to Employee all of the necessary equipment, facilities, and supplies for Employee to practice Nursing, together with appropriate assistance from trained technicians, doctors, or office staff. However, it is understood by Employee and Employer that, all instruments and equipment furnished to or for Employee by Employer shall at all times remain the property of Employer. Employer shall exercise direction over and give support to Employee in regard to standards, policies, record keeping, and treatment procedures. During the term of this agreement, Employer shall, at Employer's expense, obtain and maintain professional malpractice insurance to cover liabilities of both Employer and Employee resulting from the practice of Nursing by Employee on behalf of Employer.
18. The employee agrees to be employed by the Employer under the terms of this contract for three (3) years. This is commencing on start of work at the assigned contracted medical facility. The three (3) year employment period shall be deemed to have been completed upon rendering an equivalent of 5460 man hours of actual service. If Employee is not able to fulfill the required 5460 man hours in three (3) years, this contract is still in full effect until the Employee satisfies this condition. If Employee wishes to stay after the contract period, this will be on at-will basis.
19. If Employee voluntarily terminates his/her employment with the Employer prior to the expiration of the term of this Employment Agreement, if Employee is terminated for cause, or if Employee otherwise breaches any of the provisions of this Employment Agreement and stops working for the Employer, the Employee agrees that the Employer has spent a considerable sum of money in recruiting costs, licensure/certification review and credentialing costs, exam costs, Visa Screen costs, attorney's fees, petition filing costs, flight and/or transportation costs, housing costs, etc. to enable him/her to work with Employer in the United States, and that some of those costs are readily calculable and some of those costs are difficult to calculate.

As a result, the Employee acknowledges and agrees that the sum of $20,000.00 USD represents a reasonable and legitimate attempt by the Employer to calculate the costs incurred on the Employee's behalf and the amount of damages to which the Employer would be entitled to receive in a legal action brought against the Employee for breach of contract. The Employee acknowledges and agrees that the sum of $20,000.00 USD is not a penalty and is not a buy-out clause. If you breach your contract you will be subject to litigation. This can include but will not be limited to any damages, lost profits, direct and indirect costs that the Employer will suffer as a result of your breach of contract. Refusal of work assignments and false declaration or any form of misrepresentation related to, but not limited to, submission of documents and information to the Employer will constitute a breach of contract.

The Employer may enforce the liquidated damages provisions contained above of this Employment Agreement through any or all of the following:

- Enforcing the terms and conditions of the attached promissory note;
- To the extent of allowable under New York State, Federal Immigration and Labor Department laws and regulations, the Employer at its discretion may deduct any amounts from the Employee's last Pay check(s).

The Employee agrees that in the event The Employer is obligated to enforce the liquidated damages provisions contained above of this Employment Agreement by legal action of any type, the Employer shall also be entitled to reimbursement for all reasonable costs and attorney's fees incurred by it.

20. All disputes arising out of this Agreement or Employee's employment, including but not limited to Employee's recruitment, hiring, termination, and/or failure to complete/fully perform paragraph 18 with the Employer, shall be resolved exclusively by mandatory arbitration of the dispute, except that Employer may seek injunctive relief and other equitable remedies in a court of competent jurisdiction. Arbitration is an alternative dispute resolution process that involves submission of disputes to one or more impartial persons for a final and binding determination. Employee and Employer both understand and agree that they are knowingly and voluntarily waiving, to the extent permitted by law, any rights they might have to a trial by jury on any discrimination, contractual, employment, or other claims under federal, state, or local law, except that Employer does not waive its right to trial by jury on any claims for injunctive relief. As to any dispute or controversy which is subject to arbitration, neither Employer nor Employee may bring any action, proceeding, suit at law or in equity based on such dispute or controversy, other than a suit to confirm, enforce, vacate, modify or correct the award of the arbitrator as provided by law or for injunctive relief. The parties mutually select, designate and appoint (to be determined by both parties) as arbitrator of any and all such disputes, and if he is unavailable due to death, disability, conflict of interest, or other good cause, then parties mutually select, designate, and appoint (to be determined by both parties). The arbitrator shall have no authority to alter or modify any of the terms and conditions of this agreement, and may not enter any award which alters, amends or modifies the terms or conditions of this agreement in any form or manner. The arbitrator is authorized to determine liability and to award compensatory damages, if any, together with the highest rate allowable by law, but is not authorized to award punitive damages or injunctive relief. Each party shall be responsible for paying half of all arbitration fees and expenses so that such costs are shared equally; provided however that the arbitrator is authorized to determine whether and to what extent each party has prevailed and to award a prevailing party its, his, or her own attorney's fees, disbursements, expert witness fees, costs, and expenses incurred in connection with the dispute. The arbitrator shall provide the parties with a written determination of the outcome of the arbitration and an accompanying opinion setting forth the bases for such determination. The Employer and Employee agree in advance, on a voluntary basis, that such arbitration shall be final and binding, and both Employer and Employee will be bound by its outcome. The award of the arbitrator may be docketed, entered, and enforced as a judgment in the applicable State of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey or Florida Supreme Court or any other Court of competent jurisdiction.

21. Notwithstanding paragraph 19, the Employer at any time may discharge Employee for cause, or as a result of the death or disability of the Employee, Discharge under this paragraph would automatically terminate the contract herein.
22. This agreement shall be interpreted, construed and enforced pursuant to and in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey or Florida.
23. Whenever the context hereto requires, the gender of all words shall include the masculine, feminine, and neuter and the number of all words shall include the singular and plural.
24. This agreement and amendments thereto shall be in writing and executed in multiple copies. Each multiple copy shall be deemed an original, but all multiple copies shall constitute one and the same instrument.
25. Any Notice, Demand or Communication required, permitted or desired to be given hereunder shall be deemed effectively given when personally delivered or mailed by prepaid certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed as follows:

Further, Employee shall at all times keep Employer notified of his/her home address and home telephone number.

26. The waiver by either party of a breach or violation of any provision of this agreement shall not operate as, or be construed to be, waiver of any subsequent breach of the same or other provision hereof.
27. The provisions of this agreement shall be self-operative and shall not require further agreement by the parties; provided however, each party shall, at the request of the other, execute such additional instruments and take such additional acts as may be necessary to effectuate this agreement.
